

Job Title: Assembler

Job Description: This position is responsible for the Electro/mechanical assembly of high technology products requiring the use of medium level production and job shop skills. Reporting to the Manufacturing Supervisor, job requirements include but are not limited to meeting company workmanship standards and practices, production standards, schedules, and directed requirements in an accurate, timely and professional manner per company contracts, procedures and policies.

Duties and Responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Manufacturing electronic cabling, printed circuit board component assembly, mechanical chassis assembly, and cable/wiring routing assembly per production released drawings,
- positioning and aligning parts in specific relationship to each other in jig, fixture, or other holding devices, and/or tending to machines that press, shape, or wind component parts.
- Additional responsibilities include the incorporation of electronic, mechanical, and commercial off the shelf components into sub and final assemblies including installation of finished assemblies or subassemblies in cases and cabinets.

Knowledge, Skills and Requirements:

- Must be able to read, interpret and comprehend Work Orders, Travelers, Bill of Materials, Kit Lists, Procedures, Work Instructions, Rework Instructions, Assembly drawings for mechanical devices, cables, Printed Circuit Boards assemblies along with sample assemblies, and/or receiving verbal instructions regarding duties to be performed
- Must have thorough understanding and ability to interpret electrical, electro-mechanical, and mechanical schematics and drawings.
- Thorough understanding of company and aerospace industry manufacturing techniques to include soldering, crimping, and electro-mechanical assembly. Ability to make input for required drawing changes and deviations.
- Current IPC/J-STD certification and training history is a plus.

Additional Responsibilities

- Specific tasks delegated from the Manufacturing Supervisor, but not limited to responsibilities called out in this job description.

Job Location: El Dorado Hills, CA